Pacific Healthcare sets up its 1st Medical Centre in Shenzhen, China

- Targets premier healthcare market segment including medical tourism
- Complements Group's cosmetic and wellness centres in Shenzhen

Singapore, 5th November 2007- Main Board-listed Pacific Healthcare Holdings Ltd ("PHH" or 太平保健), a leading Singapore provider of integrated, multidisciplinary specialist healthcare services, today officially opened its first premier healthcare medical and dental clinic in Shenzhen through subsidiary Shen Zhen Marsa Pacific Chain Enterprise ("Marsa Pacific").

The Marsa KangYing Healthcare Centre(玛莎康盈健康管理中心) is located on the 5th floor of GangAoCity, a commercial building along HuaQiangBei Road situated in the prime commercial Futian District of Shenzhen.

The 8500 sq ft centre offers a wide range of healthcare services including, executive health screening, implant & cosmetic dentistry, gynaecology, and general surgery. It also houses a day surgery centre with six overnight recovery beds.

Dr William Chong (张来良), CEO of PHH said: "The Shenzhen economy has developed at a fast pace over the last two decades and its per capita GDP and disposable income are amongst the highest in China. Our investment in Marsa Pacific has given us access to the lucrative wellness market segment, as well as a client base of 25,000 members. This medical centre allows us to widen our service offerings to include the provision of healthcare to our existing clients. We intend to further expand both divisions and to generate medical tourism to our centres in Hong Kong and Singapore."

In addition to the 8 comprehensive cosmetic wellness centres, the group also operates three centres under the MC21 branding which targets the younger set in Shenzhen.
