FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Mainboard listed Pacific Healthcare Holdings ("Pac Health") today added two new specialist clinics within its multi-disciplinary Specialist Centres at Paragon Medical.

The Women & Fetal Centre, headed by prominent Obstetrician and Gynaecologist, Dr Ann Tan, is located in the Paragon Medical Penthouse at Level 20. Former Chief of Fetal Maternal Medicine at SGH and past President of the Association of Women Doctors, Dr Tan completed her training in Fetal Echocardiography at the Yale School of Medicine and the Fetal Medicine Foundation in London. Her academic accolades include the Young Investigator Award by the International Society of Ultrasound in Obstetrics & Gynaecology and the Young MRCOG Award by Hong Kong Royal College of Obstetricians & Gynaecologists. Her other main area of practice is in the management of subfertility.

Dr Ann Tan is also the current president of the Singapore's Council of Women's Organisations (SCWO), and is actively involved in several charitable organisations such as the Star Shelter which looks after victims of family violence, and the Sanctuary House which provides care for unwanted babies. Dr Ann Tan's relocation to Paragon Medical penthouse allows her patients to enjoy better services and ambience from the larger and well appointed premises.

Pacific Healthcare Eye, Cataract & Retinal Specialist Centre on Level 19th of Paragon Medical is part of a multi-disciplinary Specialist Centre that includes a team of leading doctors in the fields of Cosmetic Surgery, Dermatology, Cosmetic & Implant Dentistry, Oncology and Age Management.

Dr Cheryl Lee has over 10 years of experience in ophthalmology practice in the United Kingdom, United States and France. She is trained in the management of cataracts, diabetic retinopathy and macula degeneration, ocular inflammatory disease (uveitis), paediatric ophthalmology and oculoplastic surgery in addition to being a retinal surgeon. Her academic distinctions include the Marie Comer Anglian Prize in Ophthalmology, University of Cambridge (2003) and the Gold Medal and Book Prize in Ophthalmology, National University of Singapore (1994). Dr Lee is fluent in English, Mandarin, Malay, French, Spanish and multiple Chinese dialects.

CEO of Pacific Healthcare, Dr William Chong said: "Pacific Healthcare is pleased to welcome Dr Ann Tan and Dr Cheryl Lee to our newly revamped Specialist Centres which includes the latest Diagnostic Equipment and Day Surgical Facilities. Our successful concept of a one-stop Specialist Centre where patients can consult with a team of leading specialists in an exclusive environment has enabled us to grow from a single centre to four such centres occupying over 50,000 sq. ft within Paragon. However what is more important in medicine than the latest in technology is the integrity and professionalism of our specialists. I am proud to be associated with these two outstanding and caring doctors."

Pacific Healthcare recently opened 6 cosmetic medical and dental centres within India. It has also announced plans to establish a comprehensive Cancer Hospital in Singapore.
